OTHER RULES

You are allowed to fish as an individual or as a team. While fishing as a team you are still measuring your fish independently so the benefits of fishing as a team is just you have a partner to help you net fish but you are still allowed to operate your own rods and measure your own fish. At no point in time are you allowed to touch your partner's rod or rods.

In the situation of using pack bait or any other form of bait. Any bait and/or excess material attached to your line must have a hook in the bait. Any bait placed on your line without a hook is considered chumming.
